A TAWNY HEAD FROM EGYPT.

With tufts of hair warm bronze, within a case
It rests, this mummy from the antique land
Of pyramid and sphinx, of palm and sand,
An illustration of the dominant race
That swayed the world for centuries, and that planned

Archives of art and catacombs, to stand Against all time's efforts laboring to efface.
These sightless sockets once with love light
glowed;

This brow commandment over men has beamed,
And with its intellect may have given tone
To governments, and even touched our own
While lips that may have greeted wife and young
Are now with brain that thought, with voice that sang.

—Edward B. Creamer in New York Sun.

An Estimate of Carlyle.

"I never knew Carlyle," says the author of "Glances of Great and Little Men," "except by sight. To tell the truth, I did not greatly covet his acquaintance in those last days of his when alone I could have known him.

I was even not without a suspicion of this roaring apostle of humanity.
Once, however, finding myself sitting opposite to him in a Chelsea omnibus, I ventured to address him. I tried, the weather—the recognized conversational apert—brought in this case it failed of its usual effect. He gave no answer, but sat there, leaning on his staff, in brooding silence and with introspective eyes, until he reached his destination. When he had got out, I, affecting not to know him, asked the conductor who he was.
The latter had touched his hat to him.

"Oh, yes, I know him well enough."
"He often rides in my bus." "Is not you call a literary gent—writes books not nobody can understand."

"The conductor paused, as if mentally summing up from his superior standpoint—the footboard—poor Carlyle's characteristics, and then added, with a touch, half of pity, half of contempt in the voice:

"'Es a bit off his chump, like many of those gents; but he ain't a bad sort if you take him the right way.'"

Actors Who Paint.

Speaking of people who paint, Edward W. Kemble, the artist, said: "I know many actors who are artists with the brush and pencil, and very fair artists at that. Joseph Jefferson goes in for water colors. Dixey draws queer caricatures, and I saw one of his eccentric drawings
on a Parker house (Boston) bill of fare only the other day. Louis Harrison, the comedian, is a rapid draughtsman. Tim Murphy used to be a house painter in Washington, so he comes rightly by his taste for pen and pencil. His dressing room wherever he may be is covered with daubs roughly but effectively done in grease, paint and crayon. Lotta, Minnie Madden, Madeline Lucette and Alice King Hamilton draw very neatly.
E. H. Sothern has made sketches which Dan Frohman considers worthy of hanging framed in the lobby of the Lyceum theatre. George Fawcett Rowe used to go in for oils. Alexander Salvini, son of his father, has presented a very neat water color to Marie Burroughs.—New York Herald.

Syrian Pets.

The author of the "Inner Life of Syria" gives an interesting account of the success with which wild beasts have been tamed in that country. The writer, being a lady, and having some singular
pets of her own, was the better prepared to appreciate what the natives had accomplished in that direction.

At one time she visited the wife of a Hungarian officer. She was living quite contentedly in a mud hut, and her only companions were a hyena and a lynx,
which slept on her bed like two lapdogs.
The hyena received me at the gate, and "ough I was not prepared for it, I innocently did the right thing, as she afterward informed me.

The animal came and sniffed at my hands, and then jumped up and put its forepaws on my shoulders and smelt my face.

"Oh," I thought, "if it takes a bit out of my cheek, what shall I do?"
But I stood as still as a statue, and tried not to breathe, looking it steadily in the eyes all the while. At last it made up its mind to befriend me, jumped down and ran before me like a dog into the house, where I found the lynx on the divan.

Pet No. 2 sprang at me, mewed and lashed his tail till his mistress came in.
She told me that when people began to scream or to drive the hyena away it took a pleasure in worrying and frightening them.

I went afterward to the husband's reception room. He had gone out for a short while. The hyena had got in, and I found my husband, the Russian consul and a French gentleman, all sitting on the divan, with their legs well tucked up under them, and looking absurdly uncomfortable at the frightful beast, as the count called it. I had a good laugh at them, as the hyena and I were already on friendly terms.

No Run First.

The depositors in a private institution in a Kansas town were getting ready to make a run, as the banker was reported short, but before they could do so he left by way of the back door, and took all the cash in his carpet-bag. He reasoned that in his case it was better to run than be run on.—Detroit Free Press.

On the Fly.

An American naturalist has made up a list of 210 birds which are indigenous to Alaska, but, alas! the English sparrow is not among them, and the people of that land cannot be blamed for declaring that the United States has no real sentimental interest in them.—Detroit Free Press.

A "Special by cable," dated Paris, March 28th, appeared in the Gazette last evening. As the same dispatch, dated Paris, March 28th, appeared in the JOURNAL Friday morning, the Gazette can save money and give the news earlier by copying from the JOURNAL instead of waiting for its "specials."

A newly-married young farmer living at Greenbush near Sheboygan, has hit upon a novel and effective scheme for getting his wife out of bed in the morning. He fills the stove with damp shavings, lights them and then shuts the damper in the pipe. By the time he reaches the barn she is effectively smoked out.

The Salt Lake Tribune looks at it this way: That charter which the Air Line Company has received for a railway through Nevada, reminds us that with their bonds cashed the money will grade the road through the whole length of the State of Nevada, which is nearly half of the distance to San Francisco Bay.

Southern Pacific officials have been notified that Secretary of War Proctor and party, consisting of Quartermaster General Batchelder, General George B. Williams, Captain T. M. Woodruff and Major H. C. Hall, will arrive at Los Angeles from El Paso this morning, and will arrive at San Francisco about Thursday.

It is claimed that an Eastern chemist has discovered a process for making soap from corn. The discovery has excited considerable attention, and promises to give not only a new corn market but to revolutionize the art of soap-making. The soap made from corn is said to be absolutely pure and better than the finest toilet soap now made.

NEW LAWS.

Some of the Most Important Passed by the Legislature.

An Act to provide for the punishment of persons for altering the marks and brands upon livestock. Approved March 14, 1891.

The people of the State of Nevada, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Each and every person who shall mark or brand, alter or deface, or cause to be marked or branded, altered or defaced, the mark or brand of any horse, colt, mare, jack, jennet, mule, or any one or more head of neat cattle, or sheep, goat, hog, shoat, or pig, not his or her own property, but belonging to some other person, with intent thereby to steal the same, or to prevent identification thereof by the true owner, shall, on conviction thereof, be punished by imprisonment in the State Prison for a term of not less than one year nor more than five years.

An Act to amend an Act entitled "An Act to provide for the maintenance and supervision of public schools," approved March 20, 1885; as amended by Acts approved March 5, 1889, February 28, 1891, and March 2 and March 12, 1885. Approved March 14, 1891.

The People of the State of Nevada, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 39 of said Act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section thirty-nine. The Board of County Commissioners of the several counties of this State are hereby authorized and empowered to create new school districts, change the boundaries of school districts heretofore established, or abolish the same, whenever in their judgment it shall be for the best interests of the common schools so to do; provided, that when a new school district is organized, schools shall be commenced within one hundred and twenty days from the action of the Board of County Commissioners creating such new school districts; and if schools shall not be commenced within the said one hundred and twenty days, in said district, then such action shall become void, and no such district shall exist; and provided, further, that no district, organized under the provisions of this Act, shall exceed in size sixteen miles square; and provided, further, that nothing in this Act shall be held or construed to change, alter or modify the boundaries or limits of any school district in this State which shall have been organized or established on or before the passage of this Act.

An Act to authorize the County Commissioners of Washoe county to issue bonds for public parks in the town of Reno. Approved March 19, 1891.

The People of the State of Nevada, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Board of County Commissioners of Washoe county are hereby authorized to issue the bonds of said county in the sum of five thousand ($5,000) dollars, for the purpose of purchasing one full block of land within the town limits of the town of Reno, at a sum not exceeding twenty-five hundred dollars, and for the further purchase of the lots owned by William Thompson and Barker & Stewart, in front of the court-house, at Reno, at a sum not exceeding twelve hundred and fifty dollars of the five thousand herein provided for to be expended in the improvement of said real estate so purchased, for the use and benefit of the people as public parks.

SEC. 2. The Commissioners shall cause such bonds to be prepared, and they shall be signed by the Chairman of the Board and countersigned by the County Clerk, and authenticated with the seal of the county. Coupons for interest shall be attached to each bond, so they may be removed without injury to the bond, consecutively numbered and signed by the County Treasurer.

SEC. 3. The Commissioners are hereby authorized to negotiate the sale of said bonds at not less than their face value, the proceeds of which shall be placed in the County Treasury, and placed in the Reno Park Fund of said county for the purposes mentioned in this Act.

SEC. 4. The bonds shall be of the denomination of one thousand dollars each, consecutively numbered, with interest thereon not to exceed five per cent. per annum, payable on the first Monday of December in the year when such bonds or either of them, shall have been issued, and every twelve months thereafter and on the first Monday in December, in the year A. D. eighteen hundred and ninety-six (1896), and every twelve months thereafter one of said bonds shall be paid and taken up.

SEC. 5. For the purpose of creating a fund for the payment of the bonds hereby authorized, the Board of County Commissioners of Washoe county is hereby empowered and directed to include in the levy in each year commencing in eighteen hundred and ninety-two, for Reno town purposes, a tax upon the assessed value of all real and personal property within the limits of the said town of Reno, sufficient to pay all of such bonds and interest, as the same may become due and payable, until the same shall have been fully paid, and such additional tax shall be kept by the County Treasurer for such purposes, and shall not be diverted to any other purposes whatever, until all of such bonds and interest shall have been fully paid.

Kiernan's News Agency says: It is understood that recently large purchases of Comstock Tunnel stock have been made on information that a 5 per cent. dividend is likely to be declared shortly.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

The Comstock Still a Rich Field.

Stock operators of Virginia have been toughened by a long series of disappointment, reverses and failures in stock transactions like unto diamonds, metaphorically speaking. To the date of the beginning of the present boom the guilting and controlling spirits in mining speculation have never failed to tap the amount of money on deposit in the local banks. There is more money now on deposit in the aforesaid institutions than there was at the beginning of the boom. How will it be when it is over. This paper is mum. Let every one take care of himself, and the devil take care of the hindmost. The game is very interesting and exciting. It is worth years of life to experience. The boomers are in possession of the stocks. If they bought in good faith, the community will wish them well of their venture. If they were playing their old game they will earn their deserts.

Stocks are high—everybody says. The Overman mine is selling for $576,000. It would be as easy as rolling off a log to sell it for that amount. It cannot be bought by any legitimate speculator desiring to operate the mine as he would a farm for that sum of money. There is no farming land on earth that would give him better returns in three years.

Com. Cal. & Va. is selling for $2,704,000. Any one of one hundred men on this coast can raise that amount, and pay it up in three years from the net proceeds, and have a splendid piece of property left on hand—something like 50 per cent. better than Government bonds.

Savage is selling for $347,200—offered for sale in the open market, according to the quotations. There are a thousand men on the coast who would jump at the bargain if they could buy the thing out and out.

Of course, conditions and management materially affects the propositions embodied in the foregoing statements, but they do not change or effect the fact that the Comstock is still a rich field of operations. Outside of gilt-edge city property there is nothing like the Comstock on earth, and we have many pieces far better than the choicest city lots.—Enterprise.

EASTER CONCERT.

Sunday Services at the Baptist Church.

Musical programme for March 29, 1891: Chorus, "In Heavenly Love Abiding"..... Pinauti Choir.

Glass Song..... "Welcome Fair Dawn," Trio, "I Waited for the Lord," Mendelssohn Mrs. Taylor, Miss Dean, Mr. Evans.

Chorus..... "Angels Broke the Seal" Solo and Chorus..... "Sweet Song of Redemption" Miss Belle Little and Choir.

Solo (Rite obligato), "Gallies"..... Coombs Miss Dean.

Trio, "God be Merciful"..... Parry Messrs. Roberts, Evans and Parry.

Solo, "Resignation"..... Mendelssohn Miss Fredrick.

Chorus..... "Hear Thou Our Prayer" School.

The programme will be interspersed with recitations. All are invited. Cleveland's Minstrels. W. S. Cleveland's Consolidated Minstrels, the greatest show of the kind in the world, will appear at McKissick's Opera House to-morrow (Monday) evening. The papers say W. S. Cleveland, the irrepresable minstrel impresario, is effectually squelching all pretenders to the Haverly trade mark. Attorneys have been retained in all principal cities to keep an eye out for any infringement's on Cleveland's rights in the premises, and offenders will be prosecuted without mercy. While his own cognomen and recent managerial achievements would be sufficient to insure success for any or all of his companies, Mr. Cleveland is shrewd enough to retain possession of the name and titles, that they be not allowed to cloak probable "fly-by-night" undertakings of disreputable managers.

The box-sheet is now open for the sale of reserved seats at Hodgkinson's drug store. Secure your seats early.

SCARCITY OF SAILORS.
EXPERIENCED MEN NOT WILLING TO MAN UNCLE SAM'S WAR SHIPS.
A Boarding House Master Suggests Recruiting in the Prisons—An Old Tar Who Says Sailors Are Not Wanted, as the System Has Entirely Changed.
"Uncle Sam wants 1,000 men to man his ships," said a reporter to a North End sailors' boarding house master a few days ago. "What are the prospects of enlisting them?"
"Very poor, I should say, for sailors are not so plenty nowadays as most people imagine, and what few there are in port are needed to man the square riggers' now loading for foreign voyages, and the men who go coastwise will have nothing to do with the navy."
"What seems to be the objection?"
"Oh, they have many. To begin with, the long term of enlistment, three years, the small wages, too much discipline, liberty ashore cut off in home and foreign ports, and the best reason of all is that in the case of foreigners, should they wish to join a navy they would have done so in their own countries, where the laws compel a man to give five or seven years' service in the army or navy or flee the country."
"It must be remembered that American sailors are a thing of the past, and inward or outward bound ships are now manned by Germans principally, with a good sprinkling of Swedes among them. They have pretty good times, and as long as they can get a berth, either fishing or on a merchantman, they say, 'The navy be blowed!'"
"In your opinion what would be a good method for Uncle Sam to adopt to get young and active men for the service?"
"Why, that would be simple enough. Let the navy officers go among the prisons of this and other states and recruit from those places such men as they choose. They would find plenty of fellows who had three or more years to serve glad to get a chance to go to sea, and should that be done what would be the difference? Simply shifting them from one prison to another, the latter a floating one with not half so much chance to escape."
"They would make a pretty tough crew, would they not?"
"No, not necessarily; they would be under the eyes of the sentry with his loaded gun, the officers would be armed, and if they did their work willingly they would not be punished."
"Just to show you that I am speaking correctly I will say the most of the recruits I have shipped in the navy during the past ten years were men that had just finished 'serving time' and wanted to brace up and be men."
"Here is another point that will bear argument. Why don't the good Samaritans who give lectures to these men before or after leaving jail urge them to go to the navy instead of securing or trying to secure for them some petty position, which will barely give them a living, and allow them to drift back to their old haunts and associates, to be watched and hounded by the police?"
"Let me tell you another thing. When a man goes to the navy yard and asks to be shipped they won't ask him whether he was ever in jail or not."
A trip along the wharves was then taken in hopes of meeting some old man-o-war's man, and among a party of sailors who were standing on Atlantic avenue was a man who looked decidedly "tarry" in his blue "ganzy" (jersey) and black silk handkerchief tied in a true sailor's knot.
"Would any of you men here like to ship in the navy?" was the first query.
"Why," spoke up one "does Uncle Sam want a new crew for the White Squadron? He'd better pay me what he owes me before I go again."
"Then you are an old timer?"
"Yes, guess so, back as far as '68 and for seven years after."
"Well, don't you think this is a good opportunity for sailors?"
"Sailors! sailors! What do they want of sailors? Why, young fellow, there ain't ropes enough aboard those iron ships to practice splicing on. I tell you they don't want sailors. Anybody will do, even the rough and scruff of this city."
"Those ships steer by steam or hydraulic power, they hoist by steam, they can work a gun in position like you could a small vise. You'd want a search warrant to find a reef tackle on board of them."
"A true sailor wouldn't be no more account than a landlubber, only when at drill on the fore and mainyard, furling a sail that had been loosed to dry; then all he'd have to do would be to put a gasket into their hands and tell them to wind it round the sail, for if you talked nautical style they'd fall off the yardarm with astonishment."
"Sailors! What do they want of sailors? They're all iron and steel, ain't they? Well, why don't they ship blacksmiths, machinists, a few tinkers and a couple of broken down riggers who can splice a wire? That's the kind of a crew they want, and as far as fighting is concerned there ain't none, and anybody that knows how to hold on to a plow will do just as well aboard these cruisers as an A. B. after they get over seasickness."
The old tar seemed to be disgusted at the very idea, for he continued:
"When this country gets into bother with other nations she won't be short of men to man the ships, and should it be very soon some of us old chaps wouldn't ask any better picnic than to be inside those floating steel forts, and they could get plenty of youngsters who would be with us."
"Until that time comes they shouldn't trouble themselves about sailors, only take anybody that will go, and seeing it's about grog time, we'll have to bid you good day."
Other boarding masters and "sailor men" were interviewed, the first saying sailors were scarce, and the latter declaring they had no use for the navy, and coincided with the apparently radical views given above.—Boston Globe.
